AEK POLL RESULTS

On Monday, October 12, AEK fraternity conducted the second of a series of student opinion polls. This poll was designed to indicate student response to the goals of this year's student government as proposed by Student Body President Scott Gillie in his State of the Campus Message. The poll was conducted between 12:30 and 1:00 P.M. in the student lounge with a total of 139 students responding to the nine questions of the poll.

The first question was "Do you feel that student government should be allied with any outside political party or group?" Over 93% of the respondents answered "no" to this question while less than 1% answered "yes" and 6% checked the "don't know" column.

The second question was "Do you feel that an all Campus Parliament as proposed by Scott Gillie is a step forward in improving the students' position in the campus power structure?" A little less than 33% of the respondents checked the "yes" column, 12% marked the "no" column, and 55% marked "don't know." Many responders wrote notes beside the question asking for more information about a Campus Parliament.

The third question was "Do you consider the conditions prevailing in the campus bookstore 'intolerable.'" Over 66% of the responders answered "yes" with over 26% answering "no" and 8% answering "don't know." A number of responders asked for more information about the bookstore situation.

The fourth question was "Do you favor the proposal to lower the student activity fee from $15 to $6." An overwhelming 82% answered "yes," 13% "no," and 5% "don't know." One of the "don't know" commented "If quality of convocations would be reduced—No! Godd selection of convocations this year!"

The fifth question was "Do you feel that the present amount of student activity fee money that is spent on varsity athletics is disproportionate and should be reduced?" Some 38% answered "yes," 24% "no," and 38% "don't know." There were many comments indicating that the responders desired more information on how much of the total budget was

Jeff. Gets Bomb Scare

Indiana University Southeast experienced its first bomb scare Friday, October 2. Chancellor Edwin Crooks of I.U. Southeast stated that an unidentified caller said that a bomb was due to go off in East Hall between 1 P.M. Friday. University authorities immediately notified the fire department officials and the building was evacuated at 12:30. Fire officials had no comment.

The sixth question was "Do you feel that a varsity athletic program at IU-PU Ft. Wayne would be for the next few years of ----- value in creating a sense of community among the student body?" The responders had a choice of four

Parkinson Explains Law Of Delay

"Work expands so as to fill the time available for its completion," says Professor C. Northcote Parkinson in his world-famous book, PARKINSON'S LAW. He will appear here on October 21 at 1:30 and 7:30 in the Student Lounge.

The Professor has been a long-time analyst of the absurdities of the "laws" governing business operations in big government, corporations, education and in smaller units right down to the family. This astute probing into the inside workings of organizations has made him the darling of audiences in England as well as in the United States.

Professor C. Northcote Parkinson is also the author of IN-LAWS AND OUT-LAWS, a book which explores corporate climbing through such devious methods as marrying the boss's daughter and THE LAW AND THE PROFITS, which delves into the reasons why expenses rise to meet (and even surpass) income. The Professor explains these august findings in his lectures, as well as such related items as the cocktail party method of personnel selection, how to manage (and mis-manage) your personal finances, and how he discovered his now-famous law. A LAW UNTO THEM-SELVES is an intriguing collection of portraits of 11 uncommon people who deeply influenced his life. LEFT LUGGAGE (1967), is a caustic history of British socialism which gives some socialist platitudes an elegantly urbane drubbing in this risible history of the Labour Party from Marx to Wilson. In late 1968, he returns to his inimitable tongue-in-cheek humor with a new "law" book entitled MRS. PARKINSON'S LAW in which he addresses himself to a dismal dilemma and proposes a deeply acerbic solution for the ladies on those days when everything seems to go wrong.

One might come to the conclusion that Professor Parkinson is merely a humorist. On the contrary, he is noted also as a distinguished historian and educator. He has lectured on the problems of taxation in England and Scandinavia, and has taught history for many years on both sides of the Atlantic (including Indiana University and the Harvard Graduate School of Business Administration here, and the Royal Naval College, Dartmouth, and the University of Liverpool in England). For many years he held the Radcliffe Chair of History at the

Miss Sample Appointed Assistant Librarian

Louise M. Sample has been named assistant librarian for public services at Indiana University at Fort Wayne, it was announced by Chancellor Ralph E. Broyles.

Previously reference librarian, Miss Sample received her B.S. degree at Purdue University and her M.S. in library science from the University of Illinois. She also engaged in special study at Loughborough School of Librarianship in Loughborough, England. Prior to joining I.U. here, she was reference librarian at Montan State University.

Currently a member of the Board of Directors of the Fort Wayne YWCA, Miss Sample also served as a member of the Executive Board of the American Association of University Women and is a member of the Executive Committee of the Junior Members Round Table of the American Library Association. She is also a member of the Fort Wayne and Indiana Library Associations, Cooperative Library Organizations, American Association of University Professors, Indiana University Professional Librarians Association, and the Broate Society.

Dear Editor,

I concur completely with Student Body President Scott Gillie when he states that the feeling of anti-intellectualism is on the rise. However, Mr. Gillie should ask himself why do many average Americans distrust the intellectual community in the form of the universities. It may just be because they see very little intellectual in the behavior of the so called intellectuals. For example: take Kent State where a group of so called intellectuals (students) took it upon themselves to burn down the ROTC building simply because they did not like or trust the military. I ask Mr. Gillie is this the action of true intellectuals or the actions of ignorant savages who destroy anything that they don't understand or trust.

I do not feel it is completely just to view the majority of the university community as intellectual savages; however, it is clear that if the intellectual community as a whole does not denounce his type of savage intellectualism, the intellectual community does not deserve its name.

Yours,

Michael Otis Surface

Dear Editor:

An article in the Sept. 18th, issue of the COMMUNICATOR outlined proposed changes in the student activity fees. This change, proposed by Scott Gillie, would charge all students an activities fee regardless of how many hours they are taking. Admittedly, this would reduce the charge to full-time students.

The fact Mr. Gillie fails to take into account is that the vast majority of the 3200 people who would be forced to pay the fee would derive no benefit from it. These people are graduate and/or part-time students who are working full time, have a family to support and either are unable and / or don't care to participate in any events the activities fee covers.

We, the undersigned, think Mr. Gille should consider all the facts before proposing changes such as this.

If Mr. Gille fears that part-time students are deriving benefits from the activities program without contributing, the answer to this is quite simple. A function relating to the students activities program, merely require the presentation of a paid up activities card as a requisite for entrance.

ADAIR

With the Congressional elections coming in the near future, it is the responsibility of "We the People," to become involved in the election process, and to decide who is the best qualified to serve us.

Through extensive research, on both candidates and by personal contact with both men, I have decided that Congressman E. Ross Adair is the best suited to be our representative in Washington. I would like now to share with you some of my reasons why I have reached this conclusion.

Congressman Adair, by serving our district for some twenty years in the place where the political "action" is, has become very familiar with the problems of the day and with their solutions. And he knows how the people of the fourth district feel on the issues of the day. (Any person who can be elected to twenty consecutive years in Congress, has got to be in "atop" with the people of his district; it is a mere political fact.)

Mr. Adair is also one of the most powerful Congressmen in Washington; and thus is very able to implement Congressional movement, and to put our wishes into positive action. Because he is the senior Republican on the House Foreign Affairs Committee, and has twenty years of seniority, he can do things that a new congressman cannot.

I would now like to give you a few examples of what Congressman Adair has done in Washington for us.

ON THE ENVIRONMENT:

Adair introduced and voted for all of President Nixon's major proposals for pollution control. He originated legislation such as tax incentives to encourage voluntary efforts to curb pollution. He also assisted Fort Wayne in obtaining funds for storm sewers.

ON FOREIGN AFFAIRS:

Adair introduced and passed the "Peace with Justice Resolution," and the resolution condemning the treatment of American prisoners of war by the North Vietnam Communists, and has just introduced the resolution which was considered by the Foreign Affairs Committee to implement President Nixon's plan to stop plane hijacking. He was also selected by the House to go to Asia and report on the progress in Vietnamizing the war.

And finally, strongly believing this country must improve its quality of life, Mr. Adair has led successful efforts in slashing millions of dollars of wasteful foreign aid spending, and has strongly voted (in contrast with his Congressional opponent) for large reductions in our Space programs, in order to provide more money to solve our grave domestic problems.

These are just a few of the many facts about your present Congressman; now decide who you want to represent our district. I have! B. Charles Brown

ROUSH

Roush! That name is beginning to become a household word throughout North Eastern Indiana. The name has a tremendous recognition factor, especially here in Fort Wayne.

One may see 20 to 30 car bumpers a day proclaiming that name on a blue shoe sole type sticker. From those three astronauts who journeyed to the moon to the janitor working from 12:00 a.m. to 5:00 a.m. in a small local business, the name is well known.

What may surprise you when considering the popularity and recognition of Ed Roush is the fact that he is a relative newcomer to the local political scene. He first entered 4th District congressional politics just two years and five months ago. That was in 1968. As late as August of that year Roush had a recognition factor of 17%. At the same time his incumbent had an almost complete recognition factor.

Yet, this man, whose name we're all so familiar with now, ran what all thought in 1968 was an impossible political campaign.

Ed replied to this spirit of pessimism by taking off his suit jacket, putting on his walking shoes, sticking his chin up and walking out to meet the voters.

He lost that year by 2% of the total vote cast. Ed Roush narrowed an "impossible gap" and barely lost to a "popular incumbent" in a "heavily Republican year."

This year, in 1970, Ed Roush has closed that gap. Ed is winning for the very simple reason that he has taken politics right back to where it belongs: to the people! Those of you sitting at your tables at 9:00 a.m. in the morning down in the cafeteria when Ed Roush came over to you, sat down with you to talk and listen, know what I mean when I say he takes politics "to the people".

Roush was born in Oklahoma and his family moved north to Huntington, Indiana when he was still a small child. His early development was guided by the Huntington elementary and high schools. He attended Huntington College and graduated from the Indiana University School of Law.

In the army during the war Roush rose through the ranks from private to captain. He served as Prosecuting Attorney of Huntington County from 1955 to 1959.

He first ran for Congress in 1958 and was re-elected again in 1960, 1962, 1964, 1966. In the latter part of his fifth term the State Congressional Districts were rearranged and Roush's home county of Huntington was thrown into the 4th Congressional District.

Flag Football Begins Fall Season

On Sunday, September 27, 1970, the I.U.-P.U. flag football program opened the fall season with eight teams participating. The program will run for seven consecutive weeks with each team playing the remaining seven teams. At the conclusion of this program, the four teams which finish with the best win-loss records will compete in a double elimination tournament to determine the I.U.-P.U. flag football championship team. All games will be contested at City Utilities Park on Sunday afternoons. Two games are scheduled at both 1:00 p.m. and also 2:45 p.m.

Four of the eight teams in the league have had at least one year of flag football experience at I.U.-P.U. Heading the list of returning teams is team B captained by Jim Aschbacher. B team has captured the last three championships. Last year's runner-up, team C, captained by Bob Werling, is once again competing. Greg Presley's A team and Herb Halley's E team comprise the remainder of the returning teams.

Veterans Bill Johanna and Dudley Moor enlisted the Geography Club to form Team F. John Brogan's D team is also a new contender. Flooding out the eight teams are two all-girl teams. Team G, captained by Sharon Pine, and Team H captained by Julie Cleland, will be challenging the male teams in this fall's competition.

Four games were played on Sunday, September 27, 1970 with the following results:

|                                           |        |
|-------------------------------------------|--------|
| Presley's team A over Halley's team E     | 13 - 0 |
| Werling's team C over Pine's team G       | 62 - 0 |
| Aschbacher's team B over Johanna's team F | 21 - 0 |
| Brogan's team D over Cleland's team H     | 27 - 0 |

On Sunday, October 4, 1970, four more games were contested with the following results:

|                                          |            |
|------------------------------------------|------------|
| Cleland's team H over Presley's team A   | by forfeit |
| Aschbacher's team B over Halley's team E | 52 - 0     |
| Werling's team C over Johanna's team F   | 34 - 0     |
| Brogan's team D over Pine's team G       | 48 - 0     |

The last four games were played on Sunday, October 11 with the following scores reported:

|                                           |            |
|-------------------------------------------|------------|
| Werling's team C over Halley's team E     | by forfeit |
| Brogan's team D over Johanna's team F     | 27 - 0     |
| Aschbacher's team B over Cleland's team H | 72 - 0     |
| Presley's team A over Pine's team G       | 93 - 0     |

After three weeks of competition, the current standings are as follows:

| TEAM                | WDN | LOST |
|---------------------|-----|------|
| Aschbacher's team B | 3   | 0    |
| Werling's team C    | 3   | 0    |
| Brogan's team D     | 3   | 0    |
| Presley's team A    | 2   | 1    |
| Cleland's team H    | 1   | 2    |
| Halley's team E     | 0   | 3    |
| Johanna's team F    | 0   | 3    |
| Pine's team G       | 0   | 3    |

"Weekend" Showing Friday

Weekend, Jean-Luc Godard's most recent film, is the next in the Indiana-Purdue University of Fr. Wayne film series. It will be shown at the campus here on Friday, October 16 at 12:30 p.m. in Room 108 and at 4:30, 7:00, and 9:30 in Room 146.

The film is highly poetic, dialectic and revolutionary. It's many themes include consumer society and the horror of the bourgeoisie, butchery and courage on the roads, growing violence in 'civilized society,' the supremacy of nature over society and a forced choice between revolution and materialism. Characters Corinne and Richard experience a kind of illusory reality which reminds us continually that this is, after all, a film. But long after the characters and their reality have been annihilated, the underlying ideas remain.

Says the New York Times of Weekend: "A fantastic film in which all of life becomes a weekend—a cataclysmic, seismic traffic jam. The film must be seen for its power, ambition, humor, and characters of really astonishing beauty. There's nothing like it at all."

Weekend is a French film with English subtitles. It is open to the public and free to I.U.-Purdue activity card holders.

The Fall Pledge Class of Alpha Epsilon Kappa fraternity has elected officers with Gary Brown serving as President, Ned Neuge serving as Vice President, and Alan Bowers elected to the post of secretary-treasurer.

A new dimension of liberation is the key to a relevant Black Theology. The Old and New Testaments are important because in them God is revealed as a God who is involved in history, affecting new forms of human life in the world. Every human order stands under his judgment because only God is absolute. That is why again and again in the Bible a new order is expected which will come into being because of God's decision to make human life really human. This is to say that the Bible is pervasively eschatological; that is, it looks to the future, to a time when the new will displace the old.

Black Theology believes that we are on the threshold of a new order — the order of a new black community.

The men of Phi Gamma Rho fraternity have challenged Lambda Sigma Phi fraternity to a game of football to be played Sunday, Oct. 18 at 4:00 in the afternoon. The game will be played at City Utilities Park.

This same challenge was issued last year, but the Lombos did not answer the challenge.

Below is the reply which Phi Gamma Rho received from Lambda Sigma Phi.

Gentlemen:

The men of Lambda Sigma Phi regret that the Sunday in question is not available to us. We would like to take this opportunity to bring to your attention the fact that the Lambda's interest has forsaken the cruder, barbaric endeavors (playin' football wit'e' yon'e' big guys) for the more cultured fine arts. Alas, but our star fullback has oooo lessens every sunday-and at 4:00 o'clock. Everybody else is signing up for piano lessons Saturday. All of this is in preparation for the upcoming Lambda Philharmonic to perform during every football season. We anticipate a keen rivalry between the men of our brass section and that of your fine organization.

Yours truly, responses and 25% marked "much value," 37% "some value," 22% "little value," and 13% "no value." Of course the word choice is a little hazy, but it does seem that there is support for the varsity athletic program and that Mr. Gillie may have his hands full if he attempts to reduce the varsity athletic budget.

The seventh question was "Go you feel that the student government has done a good job of communicating with the student body this year?" Only 26% of the responders answered "yes" with 46% answering "no" and 28% answering "don't know." The results from this question would seem to indicate that the student government is going to have to improve its communication channels to the students, but the 26% "don't know's" would seem to indicate that the students are going to have to be a willing and attentive audience.

The eighth question

was "What grade would you give the student government for its overall performance this year?" It would seem that the responders were pretty tight with their grades with only 1% giving A's, 15% B, 58% C, 24% D, and 2% F. It would seem that while most students are not elated with the performance of the student government, they do feel that it is doing an adequate job.

The ninth question was "What grade would you give Student Body President Scott Gillie for his overall performance this year?" Opinion seemed to be a little more polarized with 5% giving an A, 28% B, 40% C, 17% D, and 10% F. Once again it would seem that a majority of the responders feel that Mr. Gillie is doing at least an adequate job.

Two responders, who indicated that they were black, labelled the poll "for whites only" and indicated that the student government and its goals were not relevant to them as blacks and were for whites only.

Some responders felt that the poll was being conducted by student government. This is not the case. The polls are being conducted by Alpha Epsilon Kappa fraternity as a non-partisan effort to illuminate trends in student opinion.

Tutoring. This program consists of helping students between the ages of 10-16 with their homework for one hour a week, on any day of the week in the time period 3-6 p.m. at East Side Urban League Center, "Where It's At." This is located near the corner of S. Anthony and Pontiac Sts. in Fort Wayne.

2. Adams School Tutoring

Program. Students are needed on either Tuesday or Thursday afternoons between 3:30-

4:30 p.m. to assist elementary school children with homework and lessons. This would be a great opportunity for elementary education majors to gain valuable experience in the field of education. The center is located on the corner of Edsel and New Haven Ave. in Fort Wayne.

3. Riverhaven Community Center Tutoring.

This program is different from the other two programs in two aspects. One, it takes place in Riverhaven, while the other two programs are for Fort Wayne students. Two, this program provides one night of school work-Wednesday-and one night of sports activity.

Students are needed Wednesday nights to assist 12-16 year old children with homework and school lessons from
